Please note that the course grid above is an internally created document for the benefit of the MPH/MS/PhD students to showcase their typical course selections (not all departmental courses or possible program electives are listed). In addition, it is advised that students confirm all days, times, and other course details within the Class Search for the most up-to-date information.